Federal and State Exclusion Databases

OIG Searchable Database

The OIG website has a searchable database that is accessible to providers and the general public. The database provides information on excluded individuals and entities. The online version allows you to search by name. We recommend that you attempt to obtain all aliases or former names when possible. If a match is identified you can verify the information by entering a Social Security Number (SSN) or Employer Identification Number (EIN). You may elect to use the downloadable version and compare it to their employee database. The downloadable version does not include the SSN or EIN. If a match is discovered, return to the on-line version to verify the SSN or the EIN.
